PREFACE.

The following description of the Work of the Life Assurance Examiner presents it as perceived by a physician to an Assurance Office in the light of his own experience. It appeared as a series of papers in the Life Assurance Circulator of this Society, and is offered to the Members generally, in the belief that it may be useful to many in the direct guidance it affords, and, in some degree, to all who have to make personal examinations for the various Friendly Societies. It is, however, only a partial survey of the subject. It deals only with the process of examining and with the report. A further instalment, dealing with the value of lives and the principles of their assessment, together with illustrative examples, I hope to supply before long.

I have to express my warm thanks to Dr. Spooner for the care and pains he has taken in putting together the papers and transcribing them.

W. R. GOWERS.

EXAMINATION AND REPORT.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a personal letter or diary entry. The text is written on aged, slightly stained paper. The handwriting is fluid and somewhat slanted, characteristic of 19th-century cursive. The content is illegible due to the cursive style and the quality of the image.

Handwritten musical notation on a single staff, featuring various notes, rests, and bar lines. The notation is dense and covers the entire staff area.

The Urinary System
